

Dara Sakolsky, MD, PhD
Assistant Professor of Psychiatry
Assistant Medical Director, Services for Teens at Risk (STAR)

Dara Sakolsky, M.D., Ph.D. is an Assistant Professor in the School of Medicine, Department of Psychiatry at the University of Pittsburgh Medical Center. She is a board-certified adult and child/adolescent psychiatrist with extensive experience treating youth with mood and anxiety disorders. Dr. Sakolsky has served as a co-investigator on several NIMH funded studies examining the phenomenology and treatment of mood and anxiety disorders in children and adolescents. She is currently the principal investigator at the University of Pittsburgh for the Child/Adolescent Anxiety Multimodal Extended Long-term Study (CAMELS) which examines the long-term outcomes of youth with anxiety disorders. She also works clinically as the Assistant Medical Director at the Services for Teens at Risk (STAR) clinic and as a psychiatrist at Child and Adolescent Bipolar Services (CABS) outpatient clinic.